Title and Explanation of Cover

"The Spirit Of The Heights"

By COLUMBA

The flying figure symbolizes all great souls, who contribute (in some way) to the progress of civilization, through acquiring and broadcasting new truths, in every field. With open minds they climb the steep mountains of visible facts, to eventually discover a whole universe of invisible mysteries—whereby Man can progress.

Scientific research unlocks many secrets of Mother Nature. Spiritual research is unlocking many secrets of Human and Divine Nature! Learning HOW to live is much more important than making things with which to live.

Some souls are so bowed with burdens of material interests, their backs are turned to the heights. Others, held back by their limited or false knowledge, see parts of the heights (more or less), but, like the man on horseback, do nothing to reach them.

Only those who are brave enough to explore, are lifted up by the Giant of Power within, (through rising in God-consciousness), to the stars — with the triumphant sweep of victory!

THE COVER ARTIST

Columba has lectured on: "THE MYSTERIES OF MAN, AND UNIVERSE" (illustrated with color-slides from symbolic paintings) in many States, before all kinds of organizations, and independently. Six prophetic pictures were shown twice over "CRISWELL PREDICTS, TV program (Dec. 1955), the second time in response to many requests. He predicted international fame for this spiritual art! Some pictures were exhibited in three New York Art Galleries, and published in four magazines. Symbolic portraits painted, from life and photographs.

"NIKOLA TESLA'S INVENTIONS"

HIS ANTI-WAR MACHINE was electrical in operation, and sets up an invisible and impenetrable curtain of polarized light, that can be directed along national boundaries, making any nation safe within its own borders. He offered this protection to the Governments of the United States and Great Britain before World War I. Offer refused.

Circular craft, (like Flying Saucers,) which carried no power plant, but was operated from a central POWER STATION on the ground, which broadcast a beam of energy, to be picked up at any distance around the world, by suitable devices inside the craft.

A small antenna device attached to the roof of any building will enable the occupants to have all the electricity they need, without any wiring or meters. The antenna will pick up a beamed supply of current, (just as a radio picks up a broadcasted program.) It serves all appliances using electricity, without any plugging into wall outlets. The various units pick up the necessary current beamed from the antenna, (modulated per unit.) Such antenna atop trains and cars performs the same service.

NEW PETITION

The Honorable James J. Delaney, (of New York) held 39 Public Hearings, before a select committee of the House of Representatives, to determine the poisonous or deleterious effects of the use of chemical additives to the Nation's food, (then being used.) They reported that 276 out of 704 chemical additives to food, had not been satisfactorily tested. They recommended that the FOOD, DRUG & COSMETIC ACT, (of 1939,) needed strengthening, to require all food processors to prove, (beyond a reasonable doubt,) by scientific pre-testing, that any chemical additive was safe to use.

The DELANEY BILL, (before the House for so long now,) requiring complete and thorough testing, for proof of the safety and usefulness of chemicals, should be passed into law and strictly enforced!

So, please sign your name to this Petition, and get your friends to do likewise,——— for the sake of our NATIONAL HEALTH! The last on the list should send it to the Hon. James J. Delaney, care House Office Building, Washington, D. C., to protect us, (U. S.) from slow, cumulative food poisoning. Then, start a New Petition, to bring public pressure on Congress.

ROBERT S. ALLEN REPORTS

(From the Bulletin Board of the Navy Dept., Long Beach, Calif., January 14, 1959.) Quote:

The U. S. and Canadian Navies have made a sensational, sinister discovery. Off both their Atlantic and Pacific coasts, they have found imbedded in the ocean floor, up to depths of 1,000 feet, more than a score of large steel radioactive devices of unmistakable Russian make. In some instances, these extraordinary mechanisms were well within both the U. S. and Canadian three-mile limit.

Navy authorities are certain these devices are 'position-markers' to be used by Soviet submarines for launching nuclear-armed missile attacks against the U. S. and Canadian coastal cities, and other targets. While only a relatively small number of these Russian mechanisms have so far been uncovered, both U. S. and Canadian officials are convinced that hundreds more have been planted off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

It is estimated that this has been done by the Soviet 'fishing' and 'research' vessels, freighters and submarines, which have been repeatedly observed off these coasts in the past several years. The grim menace presented by these Red undersea 'position markers' constitutes a greater immediate danger than the International Ballistics Missiles being developed by the Soviets. In view of the large known number of Russian missile submarines (at least 100), it is now under urgent consideration at the highest levels.

For this reason, it is very possible that finding and neutralizing these sinister Soviet submarine devices may become a top-priority Naval task. Made of special steel, the Red 'position markers' emit high energy rays, which can be detected by instruments in submarines. With these underwater devices Soviet subs would be greatly assisted in launching nuclear warheads at particular targets, without having to surface for that purpose. Naval experts point out that a fractional error at the launching point of a missile could mean a wide miss at a target hundreds of miles away.

But, by using the radioactive markers, Red subs could readily determine their exact positions, and be greatly facilitated in executing devastating missile attacks against cities and other targets on U. S. and Canadian coastal areas.

Submarines have been seen many times in the Alaskan waters, in southern California, around Florida, near Boston, and in almost every section surrounding the U. S. and Canada. We have been warned recently by some officials from Washington, that Russia can destroy the cities on the Pacific coast in a short time, with the submarines and missiles she now has and can use at any time.

This is why people should get away from the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, and go inland. Scientists themselves have constantly reminded the people on the coasts of the U. S. of what COULD take place——at any moment! (Unquote)

COMMENT: This is surely something to think about,——and do something about too, before its too late! "A word to the wise is sufficient," so sleep on it tonight,——and see what you come up with. There's plenty of room inland, and your right place is waiting for you somewhere there. Better late than never——but don't wait too long——(just in case our Navy can't find and nullify all the Red "position markers!") "God helps those who help themselves" is a good motto to remember at a time like this!

"LOVE AS POWER -- THE LAW FOR PEACE"

By the late Anna Frick Frantz

Recent books, magazines and press articles, dealing with the great problem of attaining world peace, claim that science and international law are the solution, which is questioned as being an adequate foundation. Science, in search of fundamental laws, highlights the many benefits which it has evolved, for the transitory physical body of Man, and headlines inventions for his comfort and entertainment. Yet, never has there been known such world-wide unrest and fear. Through science, Man is threatened with destruction, unless discoveries are turned to constructive ends.

Science, through the atomic bomb, has opened the door of Nature's power-house, bringing to Man a growing sense of his inadequacy to meet the complex problems confronting him, and his great need of a leader. Is Man, through science, being led to apprehend the Power, and comprehend the meaning of Love as Power, the Law for Peace?

Man has an innate sense of living in an atmosphere of an all-over Supreme Power, but an inadequate conception of that atmosphere as Love——(which is It's manifestation!). Endowed with the ability to be conscious beyond the five senses, yet——"having eyes he sees not, and ears to hear, yet he hears not."

That innate sense of Love as Power, recognized and practiced by being constantly held in consciousness, can pass into the sub-conscious making a reality of: "the prayer without ceasing"——(impossible in voiced prayer.) Power is unleashed today from unseen forces. Is Man being led to know the constructive power of the "still, small voice" of Love, and recognize it as the paramount law to unlock all the mysteries of life?

God, the Source of all creative Power and Law, being in all, through all and above all, and there is no place where God is not, and God is Love,——it must stand that Love is an all. This gives constant tangible evidence of the Power and Law back of all growth in Nature,——which science goes far afield to find. The attributes of Love are constantly being heard, but are too often becoming a shibboleth. Love as Power in the Universe, manifesting the Source of Life, in and for the eternal verity of Man's spiritual body, (assuring the peace, comfort and joy of his physical body) Man does not really or fully comprehend yet.

Volumes are written on the power of Love. But, Love as Power has a far deeper and wider significance. Has civilization based Law on "Love OF Power"——rather than Love AS Power? The foundation of law as "moral force" to be indisputable, can only be on the basis of the constructive principle of Love as Power——the Law for Peace. Love is not a sentiment, to be brought into play on special occasions. The physical aspect,——lust, posing as love, is a mirage to deceive Man, and is given far too much precedence through all avenues of publicity. Without spiritual Love, (Man's primordial element and law of Life, as vital a necessity for his spiritual body, as air is for the physical body) Humanity can be likened to fish out of water, struggling and gasping for return to their true element of life.

Humanity is gasping today, as the age of power is being entered. Constructive, enduring and progressive this can become, if based upon Love as Power, instead of love of Power. The one and only Source of Power, into which Humanity can plug, for unfailing light——"without money and without price" assuring "peace on Earth to men of good will". A common moral code, a banner under which all people of Earth can rally, irrespective of race, creed and color, in a true Brotherhood of Man, the Sons of God——for "now are we the Sons of God, and it does not yet appear what we shall become!"

"WHITE FLAME PHENOMENON"

By Columba

The Age of Miracles has not passed! Phenomenal powers are often given to the bearers of New Light, to enlighten others. Our greatest powers still lie dormant, waiting to be awakened by virtuous living, dedicated to spiritual progress. The more is entrusted to anyone, the more God expects such powers to be used only for good purposes—and woe to him who misuses them!

I was invited to attend a young folks' party (in New York City, 27th May, 1950) to show some of my symbolic paintings. A heated controversy arose about their explanations, from those who were skeptical about anything "esoteric!" But, after they witnessed the following phenomenon, they looked at my pictures with new understanding and respect. Seeing is believing! I felt a Presence back of me, lending moral support to my affirmations of belief in the supernatural, when suddenly (after a loud report), a tall brilliant white flame rose from the ashtray, where I had laid my cigarette. Still, they were somewhat skeptical. So, the hostess washed the ashtray out (to be sure I wouldn't put anything inflammable in it!). Then, she offered me one of her cigarettes, saying: "If it happens from this one, we'll believe!" (Just in case mine had been "doctored.") After a few puffs, I laid it down, and then the biggest flame of all arose to the ceiling, and started running across it. It was no ordinary fire, because it had no smoke or color, and it didn't even singe the delicate paper around the cigarette.

I wanted to study it, but some of the women got so hysterical with "fear of the unknown" they shrieked: "Do something! Stop it!" despite all my reassurances that It was from a Good Source, as all indications proved. So, I raised my hand, and it went out at its zenith, instead of coming down first, like an ordinary flame does.

After that, smaller flames appeared, sometimes from other peoples' cigarettes (when laid in ashtrays), if I happened to be near and talking with them. One flame rolled itself up into a ball, and swung up in an arc, landing in the fireplace, where it flared for a moment. The only thing I can compare this spiritual flame to, is the kind that didn't burn the bush that Moses saw, and the tongues of flame on the Apostles' heads, at Pentecost.

Besides making them believe in the truth that "there are more things in Heaven and Earth than you ever dreamt of in your philosophy" (as Shakespeare had Hamlet say to Horatio), this phenomenon also confirmed my faith in the ultimate success of my symbolic art, as a carrier of new insight into eternal truths (through the beauty of paintings), to as many minds as possible, all around our planet,—with the necessary Divine aid!

The article I wrote about it was signed by the following witnesses, who testified that the above is absolutely true, and was an unforgettable experience: Elaine Erko, Lucie Nesite, Elizabeth Paschke and Barbara Luerin, all of 319 W. 100 Street, New York City; Christopher J. Cook, 547 Riverside Dr., N. Y., and William Bosch, 4650 Broadway, N. Y. My article was published in "Round Robin" (June-July, 1950) and "Fate" (Dec. 1950) magazines, on the strength of their testimonials, when they wrote to the witnesses for verification.

"TELEPATHY GAME"

By the Editor

If you wish to discover and develop your telepathic powers (which everyone possesses, more or less awakened), here is a new way to do it, providing unusual entertainment, as well. This unique idea evolved out of the oldtime "Guessing Game" of having the subject go out of the room (far enough away to be out of earshot!), while the others decided what object was to be picked up, or action done. When he returned, he would be guided by the players saying: "Cold." "Warm!" or "Hot!!"

The Telepathy Game gives no such leeway, but depends entirely upon thought transference. The subject (after returning to the room), should stand for a while in each quarter of the room (after dividing it mentally into four parts), to "get the feel" of the thoughts being directed at him. If the subject is sensitive enough, and knows how to make his mind a blank (that's not as easy as it sounds!), to become a resonating "receiving station," he will sense a tensing (no matter how subtle), of the atmosphere when he is in the right quarter—even though the "senders" are trying not to look concerned!

The more "senders" there are, the stronger is the charge from which the subject can draw, if attuned to their concentrations. As he circles around, he holds the right hand of each, in turn, with his left hand, and gazes into their eyes. The right side is projective, and the left side is receptive (so, if you want to influence anyone, just sit on their left side!). This procedure helps the subject to find the right connection, to get into en rapport with the best "sending station" (for him). Thus, it is much easier to contact and plug into the right thought wave, and be guided by it to the right object or actions. The "senders" must not concentrate on the ultimate objective or object so much as on the next step to be taken by the subject to reach them, in this process.

Just to show what amazing results can happen (if the players persist in their efforts, despite failures), the time I was the subject at an afternoon tea-party, the objective was for me to just say: "It's to stop the clock!" I sat down beside it, and following a sudden impulse (the subject must do that, no matter how silly it seems!) I just touched it lightly, while asking: "Is this it?" I had no idea it was to stop the clock, but when it did at that very instant—to everyone's amazement (except mine), I asked them why they all gasped so. Then they told me they had no idea of me actually stopping the clock, which the hostess said she had just wound up that morning. This proves the power of concentrated thought. If this game is played with earnest endeavor, and persistence, with no subtle hints from the "senders" (to undermine the veracity of the telepathic forces thus being exercised), it will become a lot of educational fun!

A WORD TO THE WISE: Stock up for any emergency. "Go inland, young man"—more later.

"MAGICIANS FROM MARS"

By Outer Space Intelligence through Columba

WHAT IS THAT, ZOOMING
IN FROM OUTER SPACE?

LET'S LOOK INSIDE, AND SEE WHO IS VISITING US!

THEY LOOK LIKE US, EXCEPT FOR BIGGER HEADS AND EYES.

NO WONDER THEY'RE INTENT
ON HOW THE SPACESHIP LANDS!

SOMETHING WENT WRONG,
SO THEY COULDN'T STOP —

BUT, INSTEAD OF CRASHING
ON ROCKS, IT GOT STUCK IN MUD.

"Dedicated To Noble Souls"

By JIM BIGLER

Beneath the archic Tree of Knowing Life,
Hopefully I stand.
Above the vaulted blue, the Sun reaches out its flowing hand.

Beneath, this spheroid ball of clay spirals
On its axis turn;
While deep within my hidden breast, it's
Cosmic mysteries yearns.

O noble souls, of enduring Light, on Truth's
Eternal Way;
I thank thee for the Light of God, that is Shining every day.

"The Voice Of Conscience"

By A. KREBS

In silent watches of the night,
I woke from pleasant dreams—intent
Upon the silence—spreading light
To fathom deeper depths of soul;
By showing gently what to fight,
And how to gain the victory.
My past life's record gave me fright,
To quell despair, I vowed and vowed
To keep the future's slate clean bright,
By list'ning 'mid the noise of life,
To "wee small voices" grown so sprite
Through Love of Thee, Who loved me first!
I have morale in others' eyes.
In Thine I am in sinful plight!
My least fault Thou dost magnify,
To perfect me in Thy high sight.

Love makes me mourne to displease Thee;
Help me, my neighbor not to smite,
In thought, word, deed, to kindly be.
Thy gentle warnings I'll not slight,
I'll trust and follow Thee—my All!
Forgive past sins and negligence;
Help me—by Thy Infinite Might,
The serpent's subtle wiles to spite;
To do Thy Will in all things well.
Thy hopes for me—did I them blight?
Forgive—in patience bear with me,
Until the fight of life is o'er.
My life's work done, my soul takes flight;
For I have sought Thy Will supreme,
To please but Thee, my best Beloved—
So, bar me not from Thy Delight!

"Cosmic Arts Shrine"

Any blessing is wealth—especially if used for the benefit of Humanity. Thus, you pile up treasure in your spiritual bank "upstairs" of ever-increasing value—on which you can draw forever!

So, help build a perpetual memorial to your noble generosity and interest in the cause of culture and progress! Invest in the COSMIC ART SHRINE—which will bring you perpetual return, in increased wealth and spiritual values.

It will be the 9th Wonder of the World, because of its novel design (never before seen) and its effect of raising consciousness to higher levels, with increased magnetism. It will be built in a circle, with a pyramid on top. Golden-hued stucco, studded with rainbow colored glass stones will glitter from afar. The aluminum pyramid will be made to specific measurements, to draw cosmic power down into the interior, where paintings, of spiritual symbolism, will glow with fluorescent colors, under ultra-violet lamps, on deep violet walls (the hue of outer space.)

New Age Health Bar will offer refreshments, such as uncooked Rose Elixir and unbaked Sunshine Balls, etc. Color prints (in various sizes) of the paintings, postcards of the Shrine, and inspiring literature will be sold from the Souvenir Tables. Various programs and classical music will be offered, at stated times. Admittance will be charged, as people appreciate anything more, (and hence get more out of it) if they must give something in return. It will be a GREAT TOURIST ATTRACTION OF UNUSUAL BEAUTY AND EDIFICATION!

All investors (whether of money, materials or labor) will receive returns on their investment, in a commensurate percentage of whatever they invested. This will be distributed at the end of each year, and they will receive their rightful share for the REST of THEIR LIVES. Thus, this is a most WORTH-WHILE INVESTMENT, so be among the first to take advantage of such a golden opportunity to help raise the necessary amount of $50,000. Therefore, if you wish to have the joy and honor of enduring fame and LIFE-LONG SECURITY, by investing in such a NOBLE, and PERPETUALLY PROFITABLE venture, please send us your pledge for future participation, and God bless you.
